" When considering the value of attending a trade show, the caliber of the delegates is always a consideration. I suggest almost every delegate at TLOMA is either a decision maker or a strong influencer, further enhancing the value of connections made at the show....

..I know of no other opportunity to get in front of a respectable group of people in such a short period, making a booth at the TLOMA Vendor conference indeed, an exceptional value"
